My birthday is on Feb 9, I got a lot of presents. I'm very happy.
 I also like the things
 inside.

I did a lot of things. Clean, read books in, doing homeworks and many more.

I went to the Little
 Theme
 Ding-Dong Science Park
 and other places.
 There are ski resorts and other facilities, and the snow there is not real snow, but ice. It's very cold and there are many people.

My Dream Birthday

40114 Ericsson 林祐宇

It's my birthday today! But I'm not very happy. That's because my birthdays has been the same in the past few years. Every year, the same thing happens, and I don't have any gifts from my parents.

Why? You see, my birthday is on August 4th. It's during the school's summer vacation. At first, birthdays were all right. But as I was getting older, my mom realized that she cannot take care of me and go to work at the same time, so she planned a lot of summer camps for me.

That's when birthdays are not so special anymore. My birthday usually falls on one of the camps. This means that I'm not getting a cake or a gift from my family.

"No summer camps on my birthday this year," I told my mom. And she agreed. Therefore, I'm planning my dream birthday. This year I'm looking forward to a chocolate cake with strawberries as well as a Harry Potter book!

Are Robots Good or Not 40117 Queenie 劉原綺

Robots are amazing machines. They can help us do a lot of the physical or dangerous work that we used to do as humans.

For examples, they can be used as cleaners in our parks and on the streets. This will help the environment and stop pollution.

Thanks to the development of AI, robots are getting smarter. Deep Blue, the chess supercomputer, won its first game against the world chess champion in 1997.

Robots are also used in science and medicine. There are surgical robots that are remote-controlled to help surgeons when performing operations.

Although robots are very powerful, they still have shortcomings. Imagine if a robot have to take care of a baby! Since robots are not humans, they can't express love, compassion, or happiness. Kids might grow up without any social skills because they only interact with a ROBOT! No way!

There are both good and bad aspects about robots being a part of our lives. In conclusion, I think that it would be wise for us not to depend too much on robots, but to use our own judgements while getting the best out of them.

My favorite Pet

40327 Anna 詹欣庭

About one year ago, I walked past a pet shop. There were many cages along the window. I saw a little white-gray animal shaking its body in the cage, and I shouted out, "What a lovely cutie!" Then the little hamster ran to me and revealed how lovely it is. I decided immediately that I want to have this hamster. I begged my mom to let me keep it. Mom didn't say anything. I knew that I made it hard for her because she is not someone who's fond of animals. So I promised her that I will take care of it with my heart and soul. Finally, we welcomed the new member to our family, and we called it Chi-chi!

When I wake up every morning; and after school every day, I always play and talk to Chi-chi. Touching its soft fur lets me feel like I'm in heaven. Watching its beautiful eyes makes me forget any troubles. Chi-chi is my best friend, my family, and my love. I understand that hamsters cannot live very long, so whenever I have a chance to make a wish, I wish for Chi-chi's good health. I take care of Chi-chi attentively, hoping that she can live as long as possible.

I cherish every moment of our time together and I will never forget them.
